

Submarine

By. Valerie Hockert

WGAW# 2277022

Thriller/Crime/Horror 106 pages

LOGLINE:

After being abducted and trafficked via a stealth submarine to a fortress-like private island, a resilient young woman must navigate a lethal gauntlet of high-tech security and untamed wilderness to bring her captors to justice.

SUMMARY:

They were stolen under the cover of a hurricane. Now, the storm is just beginning. In the chaos of a devastating storm, Katie and Melissa are snatched from the States and trafficked to a remote island village via submarine. After a desperate, bloody struggle, only Katie manages to claw her way to freedom. But escaping the island was the easy part—now she's a ghost in a world that's already mourned her.

Her parents think she's a cruel prank, and the authorities turn a blind eye. Only two men stand with her: Rob, a local whose life is now on the line for believing her, and Matt, the boyfriend who refuses to let her die twice. As her kidnappers use her own digital footprint to hunt her down, Katie must lead a rescue mission back into the heart of darkness before the rest of the girls vanish forever.

AWARDS

MARPSA
Selected
2025

New York Metropolitan Screenwriting Competition
Quarter Finalist
2025

Spring Time International Film Festival
Finalist
2025