LOGLINE:

A tropical getaway turns into a fight for survival for two best friends when they are kidnapped—only for one to realize her ex-husband is the one holding the leash under pressure from his ruthless criminal family.

SUMMARY:

A toast to freedom. A fight for survival. Best friends from the Midwest, Sarah and Jane are finally trading their domestic routines for the white sands of a luxury Florida resort. No husbands, no kids, and no compromises. They're celebrating with top-shelf cocktails and lobster dinners, unaware that their "rich tourist" lifestyle has painted a target on their backs.

When a calculated blackout plunges the island into darkness, a predator is waiting at their door. But as the terrifying truth of their kidnapping unfolds, they realize this wasn't a random crime of opportunity. The threat didn't start on the beach—it was sent from home by a family who hasn't forgotten the past.
