

Where is Ralph?

By. Valerie Hockert

WGAW# 2268765

Thriller/Romance/Drama 107 pages

LOGLINE:

When a charismatic man vanishes without a trace, the lives of three women and two men collide in a web of blackmail and betrayal that proves their "perfect" marriages were built on a foundation of lies.

SUMMARY:

What begins as a seemingly smooth, conventional romantic drama book rapidly devolves into a dark murder mystery plot. This gripping narrative links five core individuals—three women and two men—in a toxic, unbreakable circle of marriage, children, and hidden sins. The story kicks off with a series of highly unsettling, unexplained events: a newborn baby tragically dies just one hour after birth under mysterious circumstances, a woman is wrongfully and mistakenly pronounced dead, and a high-stakes blackmail scheme begins to tear the group apart from the inside out.

As the tension builds, a ruthlessly rigged auto accident intended for someone else goes horribly wrong, leaving an innocent child severely injured instead. Soon after, a man is found dead, triggering a chaotic spiral of homicide, suicide, and druggings. This unconventional, suspenseful thriller is uniquely told through a multi-POV narrative structure split into six distinct parts. Each section is delivered entirely from one of the central character points of view, allowing readers to piece together the fragmented clues. The story utilizes highly vivid imagery to sustain intense reader curiosity, building toward an unusual and unforgettable cliffhanger plot climax where the full scope of the multi-layered conspiracy is finally revealed.